

Summer Work and Travel (Campower) Participants

Important U.S. State Department
Monitoring Requirements

At Camp America we know how hard you work to make it all happen for the campers and are grateful that you chose our program in 2022. As a cultural exchange program the quality of your experience is important to us. We hope you are making friends and enjoying American culture. As program sponsors we must comply with government regulations, track your whereabouts, and capture important information about your summer.

You will receive the following email every three weeks with a link to a brief survey. You are required by regulation to respond to this correspondence. If you do not respond in a timely manner, your J-1 visa status could be in jeopardy, putting at risk your future ability to travel to the United States! Don't think about it as a negative thing, however. It is a chance for you to give us some positive feedback, share photos and experiences, and tell us about your new American and international friends. Believe it or not, the US Department of State is very interested in your experience, and so are we!

Dear Campower Program Participant,

Your response to this survey is a regulatory requirement of the U.S. Department of State.

Start survey now!

Failure to respond may have serious consequences affecting your J-1 visa status. Respond now to prevent any current or future visa issues.

Please do not hesitate to contact us if you have any questions or concerns.

All the best,

The Compliance Team
